

Project: Red Bull London HQ

The remarkable team at Red Bull required flexible and connected workspaces in their new London HQ, to truly reflect the energetic vibrancy the brand is known for.

Our solid European Oak Rustic planks with a tumbled surface in a smoked and oiled finish were specified to complement the refurbishment of the original Grade I listed building.

With exposed brickwork and an industrial feel our product worked well with the design brief. Being tumbled and distressed is a practical finish for a very busy office!
